Fighting Explodes In The Middle East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fighting exploded on the Israeli-Syrian cease-fire line along the Golan Heights today with air raids, artillery duels and the first tank battle in the area since the 1967 Middle East war.

The Israelis claimed to have downed six Syrian jets in aerial combat.

The scale of the armored clash was indicated by claims of both sides to have knocked out 12 to 14 of each other's tanks.

Syria admitted losing one plane while Israeli spokesmen denied losing any.

An Israeli spokesman in Tel Aviv said armored forces knocked out 12 Syrian tanks. No Israeli tanks were destroyed and there were no Israeli casualties, he said.

Damascus radio, however, claimed 14 Israeli tanks were damaged in the fighting.

After earlier reporting that all Syrian planes had returned safely to base, the radio said one plane was downed in a dogfight and crashed in Israeliheld territory. The pilot bailed out and landed safely on the Syrian side, it added.

Damascus radio said 16 planes were involved on each ide and that two Israeli planes were seen bursting into flames and going down behind the Israeli line.

Israeli jet pilots shot down two MIG21s in early dogfights and then bagged another four later in the afternoon, the Israeli military command said.

The flareup came amid reports Syria's ally, Egypt, is preparing to break the ceasefire to force the big powers to take action to end the Middle East deadlock.

Egyptian President Anwar Sadat has met twice this week with Gen. Ahmed Ismail, war minister and commander in chief.

Ismail returned from Kuwait where Arab defense and foreign ministers discussed plans for "unified action" against Israel. Arab commentators said the meeting was not successful.

But Beirut newspapers said that Egyptian MIGs in Syria were placed under Syrian command in anticipation of increased hostilities in the Golan Heights area. There also were reports of stepped up Soviet arms deliveries to Damascus.

First word of the new clash came from the Israeli side when the military command announced bombing of Syrian positions because of "intensified terrorist activity" in the past few days.

Israeli planes bombed and rocketed Syrian army and guerrilla bases and pounded artillery positions and an army radar station, the command reported.

Riley Won't Disqualify

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Circuit Judge James T. Riley declined today to disqualify himself from hearing a suit on the location of a new highway patrol headquarters near Sikeston.

Under Supreme Court rules, he said, he could not disqualify himself until all the pleadings are in and the case is ready for trial.

At that time, he said, he would disqualify himself, but not before.

Henry Andrae, attorney for the city of Poplar Bluff, where the patrol headquarters has been for 35 years, disagreed with the judge and said he would go to the Court of Appeals for a write of prohibition or a writ of mandamus to force Riley's disqualification.

In his request for the disqualification, Andrae said he felt Riley was prejudiced and the plaintiffs could not get a fair trial in his court.

Poplar Bluff Mayor Bernard Wheetley and other civic leaders have filed suit to stop the state highway patrol from moving Troop E. headquarters to a site just south of Sikeston.

They contend that gov. Warren E. Hearnes had no authority to veto the Poplar Bluff designation from an $693,000 appropriation measure.

Dexter Seeks Bids On Jail Plumbing

DEXTER-- The City Council Monday night discussed conditions of the city jail in need of repairs, and the council agreed to advertise for bids on plumbing work at the jail.

The council also agreed to give Fire Chief Al Banken complete responsibility for the new fire station, equipmemt and fire truck.

No unauthorized persons will be allowed in the new fire station or the dispatcher's office which will be located in the new facility, due to expensive equipment which could be damaged.

The council approved payment of $1,144.86 to the city engineers, C.R. Trotter and Associates, and also approved partial payment on the sewage lagoon.

James Fraser, 27 Hickory Hills Drive, was reimbursed for taxes which were overpaid earlier this year.

City Attorney Paul McGhee discussed a public service hearing set for Nov. 28 in Jefferson City concerning the two railroad crossings in Dexter which have no signals or warning lights. The crossings are located on Locust Street and One Mile Road.

McGhee and several others will attend the hearings to present evidence of why crossing signals are needed.

A request for three street lights on West Port Drive were approved by the council, and two ordinances were passed for the blacktopping of Worley Road and Memory Lane.

Mayor Willis Conner appointed John Bratton, 1020 Woodland Drive, to the library board. He will replace Tom Miller, who resigned earlier this year.

Circuit Clerks Must Divide Court Fees

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Circuit Court clerks must give half of the money collected in court fees to the state Department of Revenue and half to he county, an attorney general's opinion said today.

The opinion was requested by W. Clifton Banta, prosecuting attorney for Mississippi County, who asked for a clarification of the laws on fee collection and distribution.

The fees shall be distributed at the end of each month, the opinion said, and such feeds received by the director of revenue shall be deposited with the state treasurer in the court judicial fund.

Indigent defendants are exempt from paying the fees, the opinion said. State law provides that $15 be collected for each filing in a criminal case and $15 for each appeal from a city ordinance violation.

Juvenile cases shall be handled like civil cases in collection of fees, the opinion said, at a rate of $25 for each filing of a court proceeding, $20 for each appeal and $1 for each summons.

In juvenile cases, the costs should be levied abainst the parents. If the fees are not collected from the parents or other persons judged to be liable, the opinion said, they shall be paid by the county.

SHARING OUR BOUNTY

There may be few things more satisfying than rising from a table laden with turkey, cranberries, dressing, delicious vegetables, hot breads and rich desserts. And it's traditional on Thanksgiving Day, the unique way Americans have of celebrating the harvest, a custom almost as old as civilization.

But it is not inappropriate on this day to get ourselves into perspective. So accustomed to the fatness of the land and the affluence of society have we become that we tend to forget that what we are thankful for is not great boundy — but enough to just sustain us.

The historic holiday had nothing to do with affluence and overeating. It was a thankgsiving to God for sustenance and survival in a hard new world.

Few of us have that problem in America today. It's a short drive to the supermarket and the billfold is fat enough — despite nagging inflation — to keep the pantry and the freezer full.

Nor do many of us wonder where tomorrow's dinner will come from. There will be leftovers, and than another foray to the grocer's, and a continuation of the same bounty.

The people who will be giving the most meaningful thanks are those who live on little, subsist, fight against hunger and malnutrition, and manage to survive in a hostile world enveloped by riches they cannot reach.

It's an unpleasant thought when so many of us simply want to feel good, to eat hartily and be well-met. The bounty is there, and what we're trying to say is that we're appreciative.

But Thanksgiving Day is not the same in every home. There are increasing numbers of food-stamp homes where one scant meal is like another and there is no 20-pound turkey. In these places there will be prayers and thanks for being alive, for having enough to survive, for making it to tomorrow.

And that's the real kind of Thanksgiving Day — the kind the Pilgrims celebrated. But they were a small group, and they shared. We are a country of more than 200 million people. Thanksgiving Day should remind all of us that sharing still is part of giving thanks for what we have.

THANKSGIVING, 1972

All of us can be proud of and thankful for our remarkable heritage, our many blessings, and our hopeful future.

With hindsight we can quibble about some of the actions of our forefathers, but we should be forever grateful that they fought for freedom and won, that they sought and achieved a government responsible to the public will, and that they developed a competitive economic system under which our people have grown and prospered.

George Washington's call for "humble thanks" in his first Presidential Thanksgiving Proclamation asked his countrymen to pray for forgiveness of "our national and other transgressions," for performance of their duties "properly and punctually," and for a "government of wise, just and constitutional law, discreetly and faithfully executed and obeyed."

The Father of our Country urged his people to pray for other nations "to bless them with good governments, peace, and concord; to promote the knowledge and practice of true religion and virtue, and the increase of science among them and us; and generally, to grant unto all mankind such a degree of temporal prosperity as He alone knows to be best."

FAD DIETS ARE DANGEROUS: BLAMED FOR HEART ATTACKS

Dr. David Kritchevsky, of the Wistar Institute of Anatomy and Biology, Philadelphia, told about 60 dietitians and teachers at a University of Kansas symposum, that fad diets can do more human harm than good in reducing the rate of heart attacks.

He said four times as many die of heart attacks than of cancer and that while you cannot prevent heart attacks you can lower the risk.

Knowing the factors help in lowering the risk and he listed these in order of seriousness as: Percentage of cholesterol in arteries; high blood pressure; too much smoking and stress. He linked lack of exercise with eating too many fatty substances in the cholesterol factor.

He said the medical fraternity did not know as much about these factors as the popular magazines would like to say they do and he said extensive research is still needed, consequently best prevention plan is to know what the risk factors are.

Dr. Kritchevsky pointed out that risk factors in combination, when ignored, cause the highest incidence of heart attack. He said if someone eats too much and too well and has high blood pressure and smokes more than one pack a day, his risk factor is about 15 per cent higher than that of another person in the same age group.

He said that the word cholesterol was unknown to most Americans until it was used in a medical bulletin at Eisenhower's first heart attack and then it soon became a scare word.

He said the problem of good health is not that cholesterol is in the body, but how much and that measurement in relation to all the other factors.

"By the age of two," Dr. Kritchevsky said, "all humans have some cholesterol substances deposited in their arteries. In former ages people did not live long enough to have heart attacks. Now they do. The advice from medicine is moderation. Don't worry yourself to death with caloric bookkeeping. Eat moderately or work it off."

ZERO RISK HAS ITS PRICE

Government release of a new surgical cement has opened up "a completely new milestone chapter" in reconstructive bone surgery in the United States. Such is the gist of a story about a new tool to aid medical science. The story also illustrates the penalty that sometimes is paid when scientific advances must await the pleasures of an official "release" by government. According to the account, the plastic surgical cement has been widely used in Great Britain but heretofore has been limited to experimental use on patients in the United States. U. S. government regulatory authorities reportedly might have been "stimulated" to release the surgical cement by the fact that a United States Senator was one of the recent beneficiaries of its use. Government investigators have been studying the material for three years.

In other areas of scientific developments involving such things as antibiotics or other healing medical compounds, researched and manufactured by U. S. prescription drug firms, drug industry leaders have warned for years of the inordinate delay and cost entailed in excessive government regulation. The flow of new drugs has slowed to a trickle. It takes many years and many millions of dollars today to meet regulatory requirements that seem to be directed with more regard for zero risk than the fact that ill people may not be able to wait years for the scratch of a pen that will "release" a lifesaving medication.

The research - oriented prescription drug industry has completely altered, in little more than a generation, the health outlook of millions of people. Because it is dedicated to progress -- as well as safety -- it has eradicated or controlled most of mankinds most dread disabilities. As the story of of the new surgical cement indicates all too clearly, scientific advances can sometimes be prevented by the heavy hand of regulation from reaching those who need them.

SEES HEAVIEST TAX LOAD RISING $200 a HOUSEHOLD

In the ten years 1962-72, total government tax receipts (Federal, state and local) increased by 77.5 per cent per American household, says Tax Foundation, Inc., In the same period, total government spending increased by 93 per cent on a per household basis. The tax totals for fiscal 1972 represent a 6.5 per cent increase over the last (1971) fiscal year when the tax take was $277 billion, or $4,330 per household, notes the Foundation.

"The increase over fiscal 1971 is expected despite some income tax reductions at the Federal level. It is due largely to increases in social security taxes and state - local taxes," said Alfred Parker Executive Director of the Foundation.

In fiscal 1962, total tax receipts were $139 billion, or $2,552 per household. In fiscal 1972, receipts are estimated to total $295 billion, or $4,530 per household. The tax receipt figures:

F.Y.	Tot.	Fed.	State (In billions)	Local	Per H'hold.
'62	$139	$ 95	$23	$21	$2,552
'64	158	108	27	24	2,830

'71	277	179	54	43	4,330
'72	295	189	57	48	4,530

*Est.

The spending side of the picture, says Parker, "is even more startling," noting Foundation estimates that total government spending will rise by 12 per cent from fiscal 1971 to 1972, or from $363 billion to $405 billion. Spending figures are usually larger than tax totals because of budget deficits not covered by taxes, and non-tax revenue receipts, i. e., tuition fees, hospital charges, lotteries, etc.

In fiscal 1962, spending by all levels of government totaled $176 billion, or $3,225 per household. By the end of fiscal 1972, says the Foundation, they are expected to total $405 billion, a sum equal to $6,231 per household. The expenditure figures:

F.Y.	Tot.	Fed.	State (In billions)	Local	Per H'hold.
'62	$176	$113	$29	$34	$3,225
'64	196	126	33	37	3,508

"FRANKENSTEIN'S MONSTER"

Dr. Louis Lasagna, Professor of Pharmacology and Toxology at the University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry, who participated in government - sponsored studies to determine the relative effectiveness of various medicinals on the market, now fears the studies have produced a "Frankenstein's monster". The arbitrary manner in which thousands of drugs may be outlawed is, in his view, "frightening."

"An extremely worrisome specter", in Dr. Lasagna's opinion, "is the impairment of the research and development programs of drug companies whose business would be substantially affected by the proposed FDA actions. In the last analysis, the health of the public is crucially dependent upon unremitting efforts to search out, develop and introduce new drug cures and improvements of existing drugs. These efforts are bound to be hurt by reduced revenues and earnings as financial restraints are exerted both upon the scale and riskiness of research and development projects that can be undertaken.

"An FDA offical has estimated that prescription drugs that are vulnerable to removal from the market under the FDA proposals involve annual sales of close to $500 million, roughly 10 per cent of the total volume of prescription drugs marketed in the U.S. ... Safeguarding and promoting the public health is of utmost importance. But that cause cannot be well served by ... questionably valid procedures to condemn products that have the confidence of experienced practitioners ... and undermines financial support for those processes of parmaceutical invention, innovation and improvement that are crucial to the long-run public good."

In plain words, autocratic rule rather than legitimate regulation is a clear danger to the ability of the prescription drug industry to continue to search for the drugs upon which millions of lives will depend in the future.

REDS SHOULD PAY FULL PRICE

We should not be arguing the question of trading with communists. It should not be necessary to discuss it after the history of trade and aid granted to communist governments. Whatever good sense and the desires of the American people are in this regard, it appears that we are in for another round of "trade" with Soviet Russia and Red China. At least our elected representatives should see that we are paid full price for the goods and the technology we provide for communist governments to save themselves from heir own system's failures.

There is no benefit to the seasoned campaigners to be able to say, "I told you so," after the books are balanced 30 or 40 years after a "deal" with Soviet Russia. It hurts all of us when we have to settle with a communist government in 1999 for 7 or 8 cents on the dollar for the "trade" deals of the 1970s.

What good working people and other patriotic citizens should do is to insist that our government require the communists to pay full price for what they buy from us. This will be difficult to bring about, because if the communists have to pay full price, there won't be much trade. The only way communist systems can "trade" with capitalist nations is through special deals at less than market price, with the taxpayers of the capitalist system paying the difference.

It is not too much to ask our Congressmen to require that communist governments pay cash on the barrelehad for everything they buy from us. If they don't, the taxpayers will pay most of it in the end. There is no reason for U.S. taxpayers to rescue the dictators who have vowed to bury us and our profit- motive system. The communists will starve to death after they bury us, but that wouldn't help us any at that point. HLH

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

UNITED NATIONS-- As chairman of press freedom committees of several professional media organizations, I wandered into this glade to learn firsthand if reports of Communist China's bullying and terrorism were true. The Peking delegation is led by men with the mentality of a George Orwellian 1984 Commissar and an Aldous Huxley "World Controller."

Further, there is no doubt that the FBI and the CIA believe the mainland Chinese, working with some Eastern European "people's democratic" nations, have created an intricate espionage system.

But that's not my province. Bullies and terrorists are. As are a free press, open communications, and the facts.

And censorship. Thus it is grievous to learn that recently at the insistence of the Communist Chinese mission, the UN Secretariat, under Secretary General Kurt Waldheim, removed all newspapers and magazines published in Taiwan-- sometimes known as the Republic of China, to which the U.S. has just moved some troops, Air Force cadres and two submarines. These publications, until they were sacked, were displayed in the Hammarskjold Library.

Earlier the Peking delegation chief forced Mr. Waldheim, who now is obviously more judicious than courageous, to eliminate all mention of Taiwan from all its UN publications and documents, including texts or tables. Thus there is no dealing with simple statistics-- information on the Taiwanese population, trade, industry of any other data which have been appearing in the UN statistical yearbook. This despite heavy U.S.— Taiwan trade, including the Ford Motor Co.'s plans to build a large plant there.

Thus, as one scholar put it, the initials UN now connote the Orwellian syllable meaning "non" as in "unperson." Taiwan has become an un-nation. As far as the UN is concerned, there is no Taiwan, no 14 million Formosans with one of the highest living standards in Asia, or in any other small nation for that matter.

Nothing is too small for Peking's rigid, brainwashed political mind. There was a bronze plaque in the UN lobby. It identified as a gift from the Republic of China a large green marble slab on which was a gold engraved quotation from Confucius. The Peking delegation insisted the plaque be pulled down. It was. Further, UN officials have directed UN broadcasters not to use the word "Taiwan."

That much, though there is more, for the 1984 concept. Now for the "World Controller" tactics: On Jan. 8, 1972, veteran supervising members of the UN Secretariat's (headquarters) Chinese Section were summoned to the Communist Chinese floor of suites then at the Roosevelt Hotel over on Madison Avenue. The Peking bloc had no right to call in employes of this division. They work for the world body, for 132 nations, not just Peking. But the 17 top officers came, led by their section chief Che Chu- yin.

They were herded into a large room by Peking's top man, UN Representative Chen Chu, and his Deputy Representatives Tang Ming-chao, An Chih- yuan, and Chang Yung- kuan. For four hours the 17 ranking UN Chinese officials were lectured, threatened and terrorized. They were ordered to correct their political thinking. They were reminded they owed their jobs to Peking, though this is not only untrue but demeaning to Secretary Waldheim and to the rest of the world body. The Secretariat's Chinese Section employes, whose status is protected under the original San Francisco charter, were told to study rigid Chinese Communist publications such as the "People's Daily," Ta Kung Pao," and "Peking Review." They were told to prove their "positiveness" and "class alertness."

The next day Che, the section chief, was forced to summon the 70 Chinese section employes-- paid by the central treasury to which the U.S. is the heaviest contributor. Che read them the complete minutes of the four-hour Roosevelt Hotel session, warnings and all.

Now the Red Chinese delegations has forced Mr. Waldheim to surrender the long tradition of hiring Secretariat headquarters employes through a series of examinations.

Instead the organ now is hiring by "selection" of Chinese Section recruits by the Peking delegation. And the Peking mission has spread word that no one without a mainland Chinese passport will be employed. Thus Mao's mission has accomplished what even the Soviet Union has not dared-- Peking now has a ready-made espionage "central" right in the heart of the UN.

And Peking has made it clear that it will be "selective" in paying its membership dues (only $8 million) and special assessments. It will pay only for functions it considers serving "the interests of the Chinese people." It has refused to pay its share of the peace- keeping forces in the Middle East or Korea or for the upkeep of the UN cemetery there.

Though only in the UN slightly more than a year, Red China already owes $345,000 on just these few projects-- and this total is rising swiftly.

Quite a brave new world this United Nations has become.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON-- The Soviets have protested bitterly to Washington over the rush of military supplies to South Vietnam in anticipation of a cease- fire.

This has put the Soviets on the spot, since they gave Hanoi a guarantee of U.S. good faith. The Soviets also quietly pressured Hanoi to end the fighting. They went so far as to imply that Soviet military aid might be curtailed if the war drags on.

Strictly speaking, the United States has not violated any understanding. Not until the shooting stops does the proposed agreement call for a halt of military shipments (except for replacements) into South Vietnam.

In an obvious effort to strengthen President Thieu's hand before the cease- fire goes into effect, the United States has swamped Saigon with supplies. The deliveries of warplanes and helicopters, in particular, has transformed the South Vietnamese Air Force into one of the world's largest, with a new total of 1,850 aircraft.

The Soviets have charged this violates the spirt of the truce negotiations. They point out that the North Vietnamese can't match the sudden U.S. build- up and, therefore, have been placed at a last- minute disadvantage. This has caused Hanoi to question the Soviet guarantee of U.S. good faith.

Footnote: U.S. reconnaissance flights and electronic monitors have detected no equivalent movement of supplies from the North into South Vietnam

Behind The Scenes

Secret Deal?— Informed sources claim President Nixon reached a secret understanding with Premier Chou En— lai last February that the United States won't pull its forces out of Europe. The Chinese are eager to have the United States maintain a military presence in Europe to draw Soviet forces away from the tense Chinese—Russian border. The President assured Chou there would be no American military withdrawal from Europe, although reductions are being considered. Our sources say the President's assurance can't be described as a secret agreement but, more accurately, a secret, informal understanding.

U.S. Bribery?-- It has been whispered around the White House that bribery was used to overcome President Thieu's opposition to a cease- fire. There is absolutely no indication he was paid off, himself. But our sources have official knowledge that other South Vietnamese leaders were slipped money to help persuade Thieu to go along with the U.S. cease- fire agreement. This sort of black-bag diplomacy isn't exactly uncommon in Saigon. Our sources have heard Philip Habib, for one, tell privately how he bribed opposition leaders when he was the top political officer at the U.S. embassy in Saigon in 1965- 67. Now ambassador in Seoul, Habib was heard to say he used to carry "a little black bag" in Saigon. "From that little black bag," he is quoted, "we bought out any opposition." While Henry Kissinger was trying to sell the cease- fire to Thieu, Habib left his post in Seoul for a rush trip to Saigon. A spokesman denies that bribery played any part in these Saigon negotiations. He would say only that Habib flew to Saigon to discuss "Vietnamese matters" with Kissinger. Habib couldn't be reached for direct comment.

MUST Mustn't-- An important scientist in the Manned Underseas Science and Technology Office, part of the Commerce Department, is also a principal officer of a company which furnishes MUST with midget submarines. MUST rents submersibles for undersea research. One of the half- dozen "science coordinators," who participates in the decision on whether to rent a midget sub, is Dr. Robert F. Dill. He also happens to be a founder, director and major stockholder in General Oceanographics, a Newport Beach, Calif., firm. MUST's deputy director, James Miller, admitted to us that he was aware of Dill's relationship with General Oceanographics but claimed Dill "exerted no undue influence" on decisions to rent the company's subs. Dr. Dill was unavailable for comment.

Naval Sabotage-- Sabotage in the fleet has become so serious that Navy security engineers are studying ways of locking on the metal plates which cover inspection holes. Sailor saboteurs have removed the plates and thrown in dirt of metal shavings to foul gear boxes and other moving parts. The damage slows or stops the ships and costs thousands to repair.

CIA Echoes-- CIA agents accused of fostering the opium traffic in Southeast Aisa can take consolation from a precedent set 30 years ago in the same area by the old office of Strategic Services. In a book soon to be published, called "The CSS in World War II," author Edward Hymoff writes that OSS agents parachuted into Burma with silver coins and opium to pay anti— Japanese Kachin irregulars. "If there was any moral considerations," writes Hymoff, an ex— OSS man himself, "they were overcome by the realities of war and military operations."

SHARING OUR BOUNTY

There may be few things more satisfying than rising from a table laden with turkey, cranberries, dressing, delicious vegetables, hot breads and rich desserts. And it's traditional on Thanksgiving Day, the unique way Americans have of celebrating the harvest, a custom almost as old as civilization.

But it is not inappropriate on this day to get ourselves into perspective. So accustomed to the fatness of the land and the affluence of society have we become that we tend to forget that what we are thankful for is not great boundy — but enough to just sustain us.

The historic holiday had nothing to do with affluence and overeating. It was a thankgsiving to God for sustenance and survival in a hard new world.

Few of us have that problem in America today. It's a short drive to the supermarket and the billfold is fat enough — despite nagging inflation — to keep the pantry and the freezer full.

It's an unpleasant thought when so many of us simply want to feel good, to eat hartily and be well-met. The bounty is there, and what we're trying to say is that we're appreciative.

But Thanksgiving Day is not the same in every home. There are increasing numbers of food-stamp homes where one scant meal is like another and there is no 20-pound turkey. In these places there will be prayers and thanks for being alive, for having enough to survive, for making it to tomorrow.

And that's the real kind of Thanksgiving Day — the kind the Pilgrims celebrated. But they were a small group, and they shared. We are a country of more than 200 million people. Thanksgiving Day should remind all of us that sharing still is part of giving thanks for what we have.

He said four times as many die of heart attacks than of cancer and that while you cannot prevent heart attacks you can lower the risk.

Knowing the factors help in lowering the risk and he listed these in order of seriousness as: Percentage of cholesterol in arteries; high blood pressure; too much smoking and stress. He linked lack of exercise with eating too many fatty substances in the cholesterol factor.

He said the medical fraternity did not know as much about these factors as the popular magazines would like to say they do and he said extensive research is still needed, consequently best prevention plan is to know what the risk factors are.

Dr. Kritchevsky pointed out that risk factors in combination, when ignored, cause the highest incidence of heart attack. He said if someone eats too much and too well and has high blood pressure and smokes more than one pack a day, his risk factor is about 15 per cent higher than that of another person in the same age group.

He said that the word cholesterol was unknown to most Americans until it was used in a medical bulletin at Eisenhower's first heart attack and then it soon became a scare word.

He said the problem of good health is not that cholesterol is in the body, but how much and that measurement in relation to all the other factors.

"By the age of two," Dr. Kritchevsky said, "all humans have some cholesterol substances deposited in their arteries. In former ages people did not live long enough to have heart attacks. Now they do. The advice from medicine is moderation. Don't worry yourself to death with caloric bookkeeping. Eat moderately or work it off."

I have noticed that when God has purposes of blessing for some person, the devil of discouragement, who is one of Satan's most useful servants, is sure to come and whisper all sorts of miserable, depressing thoughts, Do not forget that discouragement is always from beneath; encouragement is always from above. God is the God of encouragement.

ZERO RISK HAS ITS PRICE

Government release of a new surgical cement has opened up "a completely new milestone chapter" in reconstructive bone surgery in the United States. Such is the gist of a story about a new tool to aid medical science. The story also illustrates the penalty that sometimes is paid when scientific advances must await the pleasures of an official "release" by government. According to the account, the plastic surgical cement has been widely used in Great Britain but heretofore has been limited to experimental use on patients in the United States. U. S. government regulatory authorities reportedly might have been "stimulated" to release the surgical cement by the fact that a United States Senator was one of the recent beneficiaries of its use. Government investigators have been studying the material for three years.

In other areas of scientific developments involving such things as antibiotics or other healing medical compounds, researched and manufactured by U. S. prescription drug firms, drug industry leaders have warned for years of the inordinate delay and cost entailed in excessive government regulation. The flow of new drugs has slowed to a trickle. It takes many years and many millions of dollars today to meet regulatory requirements that seem to be directed with more regard for zero risk than the fact that ill people may not be able to wait years for the scratch of a pen that will "release" a lifesaving medication.

The research - oriented prescription drug industry has completely altered, in little more than a generation, the health outlook of millions of people. Because it is dedicated to progress -- as well as safety -- it has eradicated or controlled most of mankinds most dread disabilities. As the story of of the new surgical cement indicates all too clearly, scientific advances can sometimes be prevented by the heavy hand of regulation from reaching those who need them.

SEES HEAVIEST TAX LOAD RISING $200 a HOUSEHOLD

In the ten years 1962-72, total government tax receipts (Federal, state and local) increased by 77.5 per cent per American household, says Tax Foundation, Inc., In the same period, total government spending increased by 93 per cent on a per household basis. The tax totals for fiscal 1972 represent a 6.5 per cent increase over the last (1971) fiscal year when the tax take was $277 billion, or $4,330 per household, notes the Foundation.

"The increase over fiscal 1971 is expected despite some income tax reductions at the Federal level. It is due largely to increases in social security taxes and state - local taxes," said Alfred Parker Executive Director of the Foundation.

In fiscal 1962, total tax receipts were $139 billion, or $2,552 per household. In fiscal 1972, receipts are estimated to total $295 billion, or $4,530 per household. The tax receipt figures:

F.Y.	Tot.	Fed.	State Local (in billions)		Per H'hold.
'62	$139	$ 95	$23	$21	$2,552
'64	158	108	27	24	2,830

'72	295	189	57	48	4,530

The spending side of the picture, says Parker, "is even more startling," noting Foundation estimates that total government spending will rise by 12 per cent from fiscal 1971 to 1972, or from $363 billion to $405 billion. Spending figures are usually larger than tax totals because of budget deficits not covered by taxes, and non-tax revenue receipts, i. e., tuition fees, hospital charges, lotteries, etc.

In fiscal 1962, spending by all levels of government totaled $176 billion, or $3,225 per household. By the end of fiscal 1972, says the Foundation, they are expected to total $405 billion, a sum equal to $6,231 per household. The expenditure figures:

F.Y.	Tot.	Fed.	State Local (in billions)		Per H'hold.
'62	$176	$113	$29	$34	$3,225
'64	196	126	33	37	3,508

"FRANKENSTEIN'S MONSTER"

Dr. Louis Lasagna, Professor of Pharmacology and Toxology at the University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry, who participated in government - sponsored studies to determine the relative effectiveness of various medicinals on the market, now fears the studies have produced a "Frankenstein's monster". The arbitrary manner in which thousands of drugs may be outlawed is, in his view, "frightening."

"An extremely worrisome specter", in Dr. Lasagna's opinion, "is the impairment of the research and development programs of drug companies whose business would be substantially affected by the proposed FDA actions. In the last analysis, the health of the public is crucially dependent upon unremitting efforts to search out, develop and introduce new drug cures and improvements of existing drugs. These efforts are bound to be hurt by reduced revenues and earnings as financial restraints are exerted both upon the scale and riskiness of research and development projects that can be undertaken.

"An FDA offical has estimated that prescription drugs that are vulnerable to removal from the market under the FDA proposals involve annual sales of close to $500 million, roughly 10 per cent of the total volume of prescription drugs marketed in the U.S. ... Safeguarding and promoting the public health is of utmost importance. But that cause cannot be well served by ... questionably valid procedures to condemn products that have the confidence of experienced practitioners ... and undermines financial support for those processes of parmaceutical invention, innovation and improvement that are crucial to the long-run public good."

In plain words, autocratic rule rather than legitimate regulation is a clear danger to the ability of the prescription drug industry to continue to search for the drugs upon which millions of lives will depend in the future.

"William," she said, "don't you know it is wicked to sail boats on Sunday?"

"Don't get excited, Mother," he replied calmly. "This isn't a pleasure trip. This is a missionary boat going to Africa."

REDS SHOULD PAY FULL PRICE

We should not be arguing the question of trading with communists. It should not be necessary to discuss it after the history of trade and aid granted to communist governments. Whatever good sense and the desires of the American people are in this regard, it appears that we are in for another round of "trade" with Soviet Russia and Red China. At least our elected representatives should see that we are paid full price for the goods and the technology we provide for communist governments to save themselves from heir own system's failures.

There is no benefit to the seasoned campaigners to be able to say, "I told you so," after the books are balanced 30 or 40 years after a "deal" with Soviet Russia. It hurts all of us when we have to settle with a communist government in 1999 for 7 or 8 cents on the dollar for the "trade" deals of the 1970s.

What good working people and other patriotic citizens should do is to insist that our government require the communists to pay full price for what they buy from us. This will be difficult to bring about, because if the communists have to pay full price, there won't be much trade. The only way communist systems can "trade" with capitalist nations is through special deals at less than market price, with the taxpayers of the capitalist system paying the difference.

It is not too much to ask our Congressmen to require that communist governments pay cash on the barrelehad for everything they buy from us. If they don't, the taxpayers will pay most of it in the end. There is no reason for U.S. taxpayers to rescue the dictators who have vowed to bury us and our profit- motive system. The communists will starve to death after they bury us, but that wouldn't help us any at that point. HLH

By Victor Riesel

UNITED NATIONS-- As chairman of press freedom committees of several professional media organizations, I wandered into this glade to learn firsthand if reports of Communist China's bullying and terrorism were true. The Peking delegation is led by men with the mentality of a George Orwellian 1984 Commissar and an Aldous Huxley "World Controller."

Further, there is no doubt that the FBI and the CIA believe the mainland Chinese, working with some Eastern European "people's democratic" nations, have created an intricate espionage system.

But that's not my province. Bullies and terrorists are. As are a free press, open communications, and the facts.

And censorship. Thus it is grievous to learn that recently at the insistence of the Communist Chinese mission, the UN Secretariat, under Secretary General Kurt Waldheim, removed all newspapers and magazines published in Taiwan-- sometimes known as the Republic of China, to which the U.S. has just moved some troops, Air Force cadres and two submarines. These publications, until they were sacked, were displayed in the Hammarskjold Library.

Earlier the Peking delegation chief forced Mr. Waldheim, who now is obviously more judicious than courageous, to eliminate all mention of Taiwan from all its UN publications and documents, including texts or tables. Thus there is no dealing with simple statistics-- information on the Taiwanese population, trade, industry of any other data which have been appearing in the UN statistical yearbook. This despite heavy U.S.— Taiwan trade, including the Ford Motor Co.'s plans to build a large plant there.

Thus, as one scholar put it, the initials UN now connote the Orwellian syllable meaning "non" as in "unperson." Taiwan has become an unnation. As far as the UN is concerned, there is no Taiwan, no 14 million Formosans with one of the highest living standards in Asia, or in any other small nation for that matter.

Nothing is too small for Peking's rigid, brainwashed political mind. There was a bronze plaque in the UN lobby. It identified as a gift from the Republic of China a large green marble slab on which was a gold engraved quotation from Confucius. The Peking delegation insisted the plaque be pulled down. It was. Further, UN officials have directed UN broadcasters not to use the word "Taiwan."

That much, though there is more, for the 1984 concept. Now for the "World Controller" tactics: On Jan. 8, 1972, veteran supervising members of the UN Secretariat's (headquarters) Chinese Section were summoned to the Communist Chinese floor of suites then at the Roosevelt Hotel over on Madison Avenue. The Peking bloc had no right to call in employes of this division. They work for the world body, for 132 nations, not just Peking. But the 17 top officers came, led by their section chief Che Chu- yin.

They were herded into a large room by Peking's top man, UN Representative Chen Chu, and his Deputy Representatives Tang Ming-chao, An Chih- yuan, and Chang Yung- kuan. For four hours the 17 ranking UN Chinese officials were lectured, threatened and terrorized. They were ordered to correct their political thinking. They were reminded they owed their jobs to Peking, though this is not only untrue but demeaning to Secretary Waldheim and to the rest of the world body. The Secretariat's Chinese Section employes, whose status is protected under the original San Francisco charter, were told to study rigid Chinese Communist publications such as the "People's Daily," Ta Kung Pao," and "Peking Review." They were told to prove their "positiveness" and "class alertness."

The next day Che, the section chief, was forced to summon the 70 Chinese section employes-- paid by the central treasury to which the U.S. is the heaviest contributor. Che read them the complete minutes of the four-hour Roosevelt Hotel session, warnings and all.

Now the Red Chinese delegations has forced Mr. Waldheim to surrender the long tradition of hiring Secretariat headquarters employes through a series of examinations.

Instead the organ now is hiring by "selection" of Chinese Section recruits by the Peking delegation. And the Peking mission has spread word that no one without a mainland Chinese passport will be employed. Thus Mao's mission has accomplished what even the Soviet Union has not dared-- Peking now has a ready-made espionage "central" right in the heart of the UN.

And Peking has made it clear that it will be "selective" in paying its membership dues (only $8 million) and special assessments. It will pay only for functions it considers serving "the interests of the Chinese people." It has refused to pay its share of the peace- keeping forces in the Middle East or Korea or for the upkeep of the UN cemetery there.

Though only in the UN slightly more than a year, Red China already owes $345,000 on just these few projects-- and this total is rising swiftly.

Quite a brave new world this United Nations has become.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON-- The Soviets have protested bitterly to Washington over the rush of military supplies to South Vietnam in anticipation of a cease- fire.

This has put the Soviets on the spot, since they gave Hanoi a guarantee of U.S. good faith. The Soviets also quietly pressured Hanoi to end the fighting. They went so far as to imply that Soviet military aid might be curtailed if the war drags on.

Strictly speaking, the United States has not violated any understanding. Not until the shooting stops does the proposed agreement call for a halt of military shipments (except for replacements) into South Vietnam.

In an obvious effort to strengthen President Thieu's hand before the cease- fire goes into effect, the United States has swamped Saigon with supplies. The deliveries of warplanes and helicopters, in particular, has transformed the South Vietnamese Air Force into one of the world's largest, with a new total of 1,850 aircraft.

The Soviets have charged this violates the spirt of the truce negotiations. They point out that the North Vietnamese can't match the sudden U.S. build- up and, therefore, have been placed at a last- minute disadvantage. This has caused Hanoi to question the Soviet guarantee of U.S. good faith.

Footnote: U.S. reconnaissance flights and electronic monitors have detected no equivalent movement of supplies from the North into South Vietnam

Behind The Scenes

Secret Deal?— Informed sources claim President Nixon reached a secret understanding with Premier Chou En— lai last February that the United States won't pull its forces out of Europe. The Chinese are eager to have the United States maintain a military presence in Europe to draw Soviet forces away from the tense Chinese— Russian border. The President assured Chou there would be no American military withdrawal from Europe, although reductions are being considered. Our sources say the President's assurance can't be described as a secret agreement but, more accurately, a secret, informal understanding.

U.S. Bribery?-- It has been whispered around the White House that bribery was used to overcome President Thieu's opposition to a cease- fire. There is absolutely no indication he was paid off, himself. But our sources have official knowledge that other South Vietnamese leaders were slipped money to help persuade Thieu to go along with the U.S. cease- fire agreement. This sort of black-bag diplomacy isn't exactly uncommon in Saigon. Our sources have heard Philip Habib, for one, tell privately how he bribed opposition leaders when he was the top political officer at the U.S. embassy in Saigon in 1965- 67. Now ambassador in Seoul, Habib was heard to say he used to carry "a little black bag" in Saigon. "From that little black bag," he is quoted, "we bought out any opposition." While Henry Kissinger was trying to sell the cease- fire to Thieu, Habib left his post in Seoul for a rush trip to Saigon. A spokesman denies that bribery played any part in these Saigon negotiations. He would say only that Habib flew to Saigon to discuss "Vietnamese matters" with Kissinger. Habib couldn't be reached for direct comment.

MUST Mustn't-- An important scientist in the Manned Underseas Science and Technology Office, part of the Commerce Department, is also a principal officer of a company which furnishes MUST with midget submarines. MUST rents submersibles for undersea research. One of the half- dozen "science coordinators," who participates in the decision on whether to rent a midget sub, is Dr. Robert F. Dill. He also happens to be a founder, director and major stockholder in General Oceanographics, a Newport Beach, Calif., firm. MUST's deputy director, James Miller, admitted to us that he was aware of Dill's relationship with General Oceanographics but claimed Dill "exerted no undue influence" on decisions to rent the company's subs. Dr. Dill was unavailable for comment.

Naval Sabotage-- Sabotage in the fleet has become so serious that Navy security engineers are studying ways of locking on the metal plates which cover inspection holes. Sailor saboteurs have removed the plates and thrown in dirt of metal shavings to foul gear boxes and other moving parts. The damage slows or stops the ships and costs thousands to repair.

CIA Echoes-- CIA agents accused of fostering the opium traffic in Southeast Aisa can take consolation from a precedent set 30 years ago in the same area by the old office of Strategic Services. In a book soon to be published, called "The OSS in World War II," author Edward Hymoff writes that OSS agents parachuted into Burma with silver coins and opium to pay anti— Japanese Kachin irregulars. "If there was any moral considerations," writes Hymoff, an ex— OSS man himself, "they were overcome by the realities of war and military operations."

Living Costs Up

Inflation Jumps In October

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living, nudged by higher prices for clothing, rose by three-tenths of one per cent in October, giving the nation a 3.7 per cent inflation rate in the last six months, the government said today.

The Labor Department said the rise in consumer prices was three-tenths of one per cent both on an unadjusted and seasonally adjusted basis last month, smaller than the September rise but still over the Nixon administration's target of reducing the inflation rate to at least 3 per cent by the end of the year.

Consumer prices in September increased by four-tenths of one per cent on an unadjusted basis and five-tenths on a seasonally adjusted basis.

More than a third of the increase in the October index was blamed on higher clothing prices. The department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said price increases for used cars, health insurance and property taxes also were contributing factors.

The bureau said that in the 11 months since President Nixon started his Phase 2 wage-price control program, the cost of living has risen 3.5 per cent. It has gone up 3.2 per cent since August 1971 when the President imposed his freeze on wages and prices.

The report said the rate of inflation has worsened in the last three months, with prices rising at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 4.1 per cent compared with 3.3 per cent in the previous three-month period. For the six-month span as a whole consumer prices have gone up 3.7 per cent.

The bureau said the higher prices were moderated bs t er prices for beef, some fresh fruits and vegetables and gasoline.

Prices for fresh fruits, poultry and beef dropped, but not as much as usual at this time of the year, the department said.

Altogether, food prices rose by a small one-tenth of one per cent unadjusted, and two-te iths seasonally adjusted. The prices of commodities other than food climbed by a sharp four-tenths of one per cent, but with seasonal influences subtracted, the department said, this amounted to a one-tenth of a per cent decline.

The index rose to 126.6 of the 1967 base, meaning that it cost $12.66 to buy the same items that cost $10 in 1967.

Looking at the figures more closely the bureau said the index of food prices in grocery stores was essentially unchanged.

Eagleton Requests Aid For Bootheel Counties

WASHINGTON — Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton (D-Mo.) has contacted Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz and other federal officials requesting that they give all possible immediate and long-range aid to farmers in Southeast Missouri experiencing massive crop losses due to excessive rainfall in the area.

The senator has received numberous telephone calls and written inquiries regarding the serious situation which has developed in the Bootheel area.

Heavy rains from July through October have resulted in saturation of the soil, and particularly heavy rains in October have prohibited the harvesting of crops during this period, normally the most active. Farmers have suffered large losses of soybeans, cotton and feed grains because of flooding and the inability to harvest.

He has also written to the chief of engineers, U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, to request that the corps provide such assistance as it can in repairing levees and channels in the area.

The senator has also asked that the corps give immediate attention to accelerating work on the St. Francis Basin project and other area corps projects in order to alleviate such flooding situations in the future.

Eagleton has also contacted the Missouri State Highway Department, calling its attention to damaged roads in the area and requesting the department to give whatever assistance it can to local county officials.

What's The Law

The Case Of The Luckless Egg Snatcher

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

As a criminal, Looey was totally lacking in aptitude. On a crowded bus, for example, he was likely to pick his own pocket. What's more, he just wasn't lucky. Consequently, when he decided to steal some eggs from Farmer Brown's chicken coop, he had no reason to anticipate that his fortunes would improve. They didn't.

While Looey managed to grab a dozen eggs, a pair of passing cops managed to grab him as he was legging it from the scene of the crime. And if that wasn't bad enough, the impatient eggs began to hatch just as the officers nabbed him.

The result? Instead of being charged with stealing eggs at 50 cents a dozen, which was only petty larceny, he was charged with stealing chickens at a greater value which constituted grand larceny.

"But, I didn't steal chickens," protested Looey in court. "All I stole were a few miserable eggs worth only 50 cents."

"They may have been only eggs when he stole them," retorted the attesting officers, "but they were chickens when we grabbed him. That makes it grand larceny."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you put luckless Looey in the coop for grand larceny?

This is how the judge ruled: NO! The judge held that the value of stolen property is fixed as of the time of the theft. In this case, observed the judge, at the time of the theft the value of the property stolen was only 50 cents, to wit, the value of eggs and not the value of the subsequently hatched chickens.

Living Costs Up

Inflation Jumps In October

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living, nudged by higher prices for clothing, rose by three-tenths of one per cent in October, giving the nation a 3.7 per cent inflation rate in the last six months, the government said today.

The Labor Department said the rise in consumer prices was three-tenths of one per cent both on an unadjusted and seasonally adjusted basis last month, smaller than the September rise but still over the Nixon administration's target of reducing the inflation rate to at least 3 per cent by the end of the year.

Consumer prices in September increased by four-tenths of one per cent on an unadjusted basis and five-tenths on a seasonally adjusted basis.

More than a third of the increase in the October index was blamed on higher clothing prices. The department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said price increases for used cars, health insurance and property taxes also were contributing factors.

The bureau said that in the 11 months since President Nixon started his Phase 2 wage-price control program, the cost of living has risen 3.5 per cent. It has gone up 3.2 per cent since August 1971 when the President imposed his freeze on wages and prices.

The report said the rate of inflation has worsened in the last three months, with prices rising at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 4.1 per cent compared with 3.3 per cent in the previous three-month period. For the six-month span as a whole consumer prices have gone up 3.7 per cent.

The bureau said the higher prices were moderated bs t er prices for beef, some fresh fruits and vegetables and gasoline.

Prices for fresh fruits, poultry and beef dropped, but not as much as usual at this time of the year, the department said.

Altogether, food prices rose by a small one-tenth of one per cent unadjusted, and two-te iths seasonally adjusted. The prices of commodities other than food climbed by a sharp four-tenths of one per cent, but with seasonal influences subtracted, the department said, this amounted to a one-tenth of a per cent decline.

The index rose to 126.6 of the 1967 base, meaning that it cost $12.66 to buy the same items that cost $10 in 1967.

Looking at the figures more closely the bureau said the index of food prices in grocery stores was essentially unchanged.

Eagleton Requests Aid For Bootheel Counties

WASHINGTON — Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton (D-Mo.) has contacted Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz and other federal officials requesting that they give all possible immediate and long-range aid to farmers in Southeast Missouri experiencing massive crop losses due to excessive rainfall in the area.

The senator has received numberous telephone calls and written inquiries regarding the serious situation which has developed in the Bootheel area.

Heavy rains from July through October have resulted in saturation of the soil, and particularly heavy rains in October have prohibited the harvesting of crops during this period, normally the most active. Farmers have suffered large losses of soybeans, cotton and feed grains because of flooding and the inability to harvest.

He has also written to the chief of engineers, U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, to request that the corps provide such assistance as it can in repairing levees and channels in the area.

The senator has also asked that the corps give immediate attention to accelerating work on the St. Francis Basin project and other area corps projects in order to alleviate such flooding situations in the future.

Eagleton has also contacted the Missouri State Highway Department, calling its attention to damaged roads in the area and requesting the department to give whatever assistance it can to local county officials.

What's The Law

The Case Of The Luckless Egg Snatcher

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

As a criminal, Looey was totally lacking in aptitude. On a crowded bus, for example, he was likely to pick his own pocket. What's more, he just wasn't lucky. Consequently, when he decided to steal some eggs from Farmer Brown's chicken coop, he had no reason to anticipate that his fortunes would improve. They didn't.

While Looey managed to grab a dozen eggs, a pair of passing cops managed to grab him as he was legging it from the scene of the crime. And if that wasn't bad enough, the impatient eggs began to hatch just as the officers nabbed him.

The result? Instead of being charged with stealing eggs at 50 cents a dozen, which was only petty larceny, he was charged with stealing chickens at a greater value which constituted grand larceny.

"But, I didn't steal chickens," protested Looey in court. "All I stole were a few miserable eggs worth only 50 cents."

"They may have been only eggs when he stole them," retorted the attesting officers, "but they were chickens when we grabbed him. That makes it grand larceny."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you put luckless Looey in the coop for grand larceny?

This is how the judge ruled: NO! The judge held that the value of stolen property is fixed as of the time of the theft. In this case, observed the judge, at the time of the theft the value of the property stolen was only 50 cents, to wit, the value of eggs and not the value of the subsequently hatched chickens.

Ann Landers

Girl Risks Skin Cancer To Get Year Round Tan

Dear Ann Landers: The Spokane Spokesman printed a letter in their Action Corner that puts Women's Lib in the proper perspective. Please print it. This gal speaks for me and millions more, I'll bet.

"Hello, World. Some women want 'Equal Rights,' but count me out. If you Women's Libbers must liberate us, please do me in reverse.

"Liberate me from aching feet, cranky customers, hard to- find babysitter, unhappy children who hate coming home to an empty house. Put me back in my own kitchen. Give me an air- conditioned home, shopping sprees, noisy kids, a husband to warm my feet at night.

"Give me back the time I had to cope with childhood diseases, friendly well- meaning neighbors, a coffee break, time to catch up on the ironing and mending, reading and visiting.

"Let me smell fresh bread from my own oven, cut grass in my yard, wet pants, dirty kids and freshly washed clothes. Give me back the time to say 'I love you' to my family. What could be more important than that?''--- V.F., Ritzville, Washington

Dear Friends in Spokane: Nothing. Absolutely nothing. Thanks for reminding us.

Dear Ann Landers: My girlfriend, age 25, wants a suntan all year round. From May through September she bakes herself outdoors. When there is no available sun she hauls out the sun lamp. This has been going on for at least seven years. Last June she noticed some red patches on her face and went to a doctor. He told her she had skin cancer from too much sun. He said it was not serious and simple surgery would take care of it. He told her to stay out of the sun or risk more skin cancer.

Now my friend is very depressed because she hates the way she looks without a suntan. Yesterday she was back under the sun lamp, and says the lamp is not as bad as the sun. Is she right?--- Every Day In Sunday In Traverse City

Dear Ev: She should ask her doctor. He will tell her that skin cancer patients should NOT subject themselves to unnecessary ultra- violet rays--- nature's or man- made.

There are many newly perfected cosmetics that can give the appearance of a sun tan without the skin- punishing exposure. I recommend them.

Dear Ann Landers: A letter from one of your readers stated "escort services are recommended by the Better Business Bureau." The policy of all Better Business Bureaus prohibits the recommendation or endorsement of any business or person. If one of our colleagues has erred we would appreciate having the matter reported to the Council of Better Business Bureaus in New York.

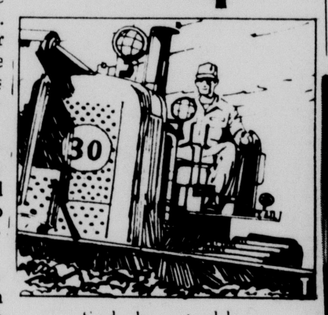
Commercial escort and computer dating services are not in the public interest unless research and examinations are performed which substantiate that the people matched are safe in respect to rape, prostitution, robbery, or other crimes perpetrated by one on another. You may have read that one computer dating service was prosecuted as a prostitution ring.

If you have space in your column, you might clear up the endorsement- recommendation statement. Thank you kindly.--- Robert Bonner, BBB Grand Rapids, Michigan

Dear R.B. of BBB: I am making space in my column for what I consider a useful piece of information. Thank you for writing.

Don't get burned by a "line" that's too hot to handle. Play it cool with Ann Landers' guide to ''Necking and Petting--- What Are the Limits?" Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper, enclosing 50c in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

We're out to help.



So help us tackle some of the big jobs around town.

The Army Reserve. It pays to go to meetings.

MEMBERS OF THE CAST of "The Impossible Years", Sikeston Little Theatre's first production for the season, include, from left, Jerry Abernathy, Terri Ann Terrell, Erma Braswell and Jim Crenshaw. The show will be presented at 8 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Sikeston Activity Center.

Little Theatre To Present Comedy

The first offering of the 1972- 73 season by Sikeston Little Theatre is "The Impossible Years", a peppery play by Bob Fisher and Arthur Marks about a psychiatrist who is writing a book about teen- agers with two teen- agers of his own constantly under foot.

The elder, 17, has a menagerie in tow, inclucing some very verminous beatniks from the lower depths of Greenwich Village, the boy next door, a Peace Corps reject and an artist, among others.

There is some question in the psychiatrist's household concerning the older daughter, but this is more or less cleared up when it is learned she was married in Maryland under an assumed name. The problem is that she will not reveal the name of the one she married. This is enough to cause her harried father some monstrous nightmares.

The younger daughter, meantime, is boning up on "Fannie Hill" and concludes that the book is tamer than her own household.

Among other characters in the rollicking comedy are the gym teacher in a version of Bermuda shorts and a hypochondrial doctor who is against Medicare. Add to these the transistorized rhythms of the Watusi and the constantly hungry mob which the slightly "with it" mother tries to keep fed, and you have a portion of the picture, all too familiar, of what the play is about.

Members of the cast are: Jim Crenshaw, Erma Braswell, Terri Ann Terrell, Rachelle Rowe, Gary Pearcy, Jerry Abernathy, Vivian Boyer, Jamie Terrell, Ron Peek, Chris Matthews, Lea Anna Braswell, Mike Marsh, Stan Johnson and Chuck Lewis. The play is under the direction of Peggy Matthews and Annette York.

Curtain time is 8 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the Sikeston Activity Center.

Ann Landers

Girl Risks Skin Cancer To Get Year Round Tan

Dear Ann Landers: The Spokane Spokesman printed a letter in their Action Corner that puts Women's Lib in the proper perspective. Please print it. This gal speaks for me and millions more, I'll bet.

"Hello, World. Some women want 'Equal Rights,' but count me out. If you Women's Libbers must liberate us, please do me in reverse.

"Liberate me from aching feet, cranky customers, hard to- find babysitter, unhappy children who hate coming home to an empty house. Put me back in my own kitchen. Give me an air- conditioned home, shopping sprees, noisy kids, a husband to warm my feet at night.

"Give me back the time I had to cope with childhood diseases, friendly well- meaning neighbors, a coffee break, time to catch up on the ironing and mending, reading and visiting.

"Let me smell fresh bread from my own oven, cut grass in my yard, wet pants, dirty kids and freshly washed clothes. Give me back the time to say 'I love you' to my family. What could be more important than that?"--- V.F., Ritzville, Washington

Dear Friends in Spokane: Nothing. Absolutely nothing. Thanks for reminding us.

Dear Ann Landers: My girlfriend, age 25, wants a suntan all year round. From May through September she bakes herself outdoors. When there is no available sun she hauls out the sun lamp. This has been going on for at least seven years. Last June she noticed some red patches on her face and went to a doctor. He told her she had skin cancer from too much sun. He said it was not serious and simple surgery would take care of it. He told her to stay out of the sun or risk more skin cancer.

Now my friend is very depressed because she hates the way she looks without a suntan. Yesterday she was back under the sun lamp, and says the lamp is not as bad as the sun. Is she right?--- Every Day In Sunday In Traverse City

Dear Ev: She should ask her doctor. He will tell her that skin cancer patients should NOT subject themselves to unnecessary ultra- violet rays--- nature's or man- made.

There are many newly perfected cosmetics that can give the appearance of a sun tan without the skin- punishing exposure. I recommend them.

Dear Ann Landers: A letter from one of your readers stated "escort services are recommended by the Better Business Bureau." The policy of all Better Business Bureaus prohibits the recommendation or endorsement of any business or person. If one of our colleagues has erred we would appreciate having the matter reported to the Council of Better Business Bureaus in New York.

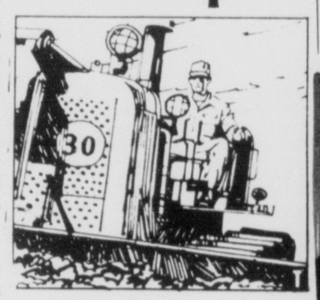
Commercial escort and computer dating services are not in the public interest unless research and examinations are performed which substantiate that the people matched are safe in respect to rape, prostitution, robbery, or other crimes perpetrated by one on another. You may have read that one computer dating service was prosecuted as a prostitution ring.

If you have space in your column, you might clear up the endorsement- recommendation statement. Thank you kindly.--- Robert Bonner, BBB Grand Rapids, Michigan

Dear R.B. of BBB: I am making space in my column for what I consider a useful piece of information. Thank you for writing.

Don't get burned by a "line" that's too hot to handle. Play it cool with Ann Landers' guide to "Necking and Petting--- What Are the Limits?" Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper, enclosing 50c in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

We're out to help.



So help us tackle some of the big jobs around town.

The Army Reserve. It pays to go to meetings.

MEMBERS OF THE CAST of "The Impossible Years", Sikeston Little Theatre's first production for the season, include, from left, Jerry Abernathy, Terri Ann Terrell, Erma Braswell and Jim Crenshaw. The show will be presented at 8 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Sikeston Activity Center.

Little Theatre To Present Comedy

The first offering of the 1972- 73 season by Sikeston Little Theatre is "The Impossible Years", a peppery play by Bob Fisher and Arthur Marks about a psychiatrist who is writing a book about teen- agers with two teen- agers of his own constantly under foot.

The elder, 17, has a menagerie in tow, inclucing some very verminous beatniks from the lower depths of Greenwich Village, the boy next door, a Peace Corps reject and an artist, among others.

There is some question in the psychiatrist's household concerning the older daughter, but this is more or less cleared up when it is learned she was married in Maryland under an assumed name. The problem is that she will not reveal the name of the one she married. This is enough to cause her harried father some monstrous nightmares.

The younger daughter, meantime, is boning up on "Fannie Hill" and concludes that the book is tamer than her own household.

Among other characters in the rollicking comedy are the gym teacher in a version of Bermuda shorts and a hypochondrial doctor who is against Medicare. Add to these the transistorized rhythms of the Watusi and the constantly hungry mob which the slightly "with it" mother tries to keep fed, and you have a portion of the picture, all too familiar, of what the play is about.

Members of the cast are: Jim Crenshaw, Erma Braswell, Terri Ann Terrell, Rachelle Rowe, Gary Pearcy, Jerry Abernathy, Vivian Boyer, Jamie Terrell, Ron Peek, Chris Matthews, Lea Anna Braswell, Mike Marsh, Stan Johnson and Chuck Lewis. The play is under the direction of Peggy Matthews and Annette York.

Curtain time is 8 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the Sikeston Activity Center.

Redskins Win 7th Straight

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Three cheers for the Redskins,'' sang the husky-voiced Washington football team. "Three cheers for the Redskins ... rah, rah, rah."

These are grown men, mind you.

"Hooray for Pat. Hooray for Pat Fischer," continued the offkey locker room chorus. "Hooray for Alvin. Hooray for Alvin Haymond. Rah, rah, rah."

The Redskins are the world's oldest, largest, highest-paid Boy Scouts. George Allen is as much their scoutmaster as the coach of the National Football League powerhouse.

After a victory, Allen passes out game footballs like so many merit badges. Monday night was Fischer's turn for gutty defense that got him a black eye and Haymond's turn for nifty kick returning.

"We sing because we're happy," said Allen. "It was a big win for us. The pressure's now on the Dallas Cowboys for Thursday's game. We'll just sit back and watch what happens."

Washington had just smacked over the Atlanta Falcons 24-13 for their seventh straight, the longest streak of Redskin victories since 194? when D.C. had its last world champion.

Billy Kilmer hit 7-for-7 in the third quarter, topping an 89yard march with an 18-yard touchdown pass to Larry Brown and later hitting tight end Jerry Smith on a 12-yard score.

A 10-7 Falcon halftime lead vanished amid the Kilmer barrage that put Washington into 21-10 command. Bill Bell kicked a fourth-period field goal and Curt Knight matched it with a 37-yarder that drew a standing ovation.

Knight, you see, had blown six straight field goal attempts and had been showered with boos for two earlier goofs.

Kilmer, rushed by 250-pound Claude Humphrey, threw an interception in the first quarter that Ken Reaves returned eight yards to the Redskins' 44.

Three plays later, Atlanta quarterback Bob Berry rifled a 36-yard touchdown pass to tight end Jim Mitchell for a 7-0 Falcon lead.

Ted Vactor fumbled a Falcon punt at the Redskin 30 to set the table for a 33-yard field goal by Bell that made it 10-0 as the Washington clientele squirmed in their seats.

Falcon runner Art Malone cooled his team's hot streak with a fumble that was covered up by linebacker Chris Hanburger.

Kilmer hit Roy Jefferson for eight yards and Charley Taylor made 14 on an end-around to set up a one-yard scoring charge by the incredible Brown. It was then 10-7, setting the stage for Kilmer's third period heroics that erased Atlanta hopes for an upset.

Brown muscled for five yards on his first carry of the game, hitting 1,000 for the season with four games to go.

USC, Alabama Lead Grid Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern California's unbeaten Trojans maintained their runaway lead over Alabama in The Associated Press college football ratings today while Auburn replaced Notre Dame for the only change in the Top Ten.

Following Saturday's impressive 24-7 drubbing of 14th-ranked UCLA that gave them the Pacific-8 championship and a berth in the Rose Bowl, the Trojans pulled down 44 firstplace votes and 988 of a possible 1,000 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Alabama and Michigan, the only other unbeaten teams in the country, continued to run 23. The second-ranked Crimson Tide blasted Virginia Tech 52-13 to nail down a Cotton Bowl invitation and received five firstplace ballots and 874 points.

Michigan used a field goal with 64 seconds left to turn back Purdue 9-6. The Wolverines, who need only a win or tie against ninth-ranked Ohio State this weekend to capture the Big Ten crown and the other Rose Bowl berth, received the remaining first-place vote and 744 points.

The 4-5-6-7-8-9 positions were retained by Oklahoma, Nebraska, Penn State, Texas, Louisiana State and Ohio State but Auburn inched up from 11th to 10th by trouncing Georgia 27-10 while Notre Dame slid from 10th to 11th after barely holding off Miami, Fla., 20-17.

Oklahoma whipped Kansas 31-7, Nebraska buried Kansas State 59-7, Penn State outslugged Boston College 45-26, Texas blanked Texas Christian 27-0, LSU downed Mississippi State 28-14 and Ohio State beat Northwestern 27-14.

Lilbourn Upset Pick

The largest schedule of the young basketball season is set tonight as 40 teams square off at 19 different sites, giving the avid roundball fan a large selection to pick from.

The old swami is sporting an 18 of 23 mark after two nights of guessing, the latest a disappointing seven of 11 evening after the impressive 11 of 12 night a week ago.

Oh ... well, like the old saying goes ... "Nobody's perfect."

Here's how I see tonight's outcome ...

Notre Dame at Kelly — This has always been a great battle ... The Bulldogs are big, but so are the Hawks. The home court advantage will probably make the difference ... KHS 58, Notre Dame 51.

Malden at Gideon — Coach Richard Plyland's Bulldogs will get tougher as the season progresses and should have little trouble with the Green Wave, who open their season tonight ... Gideon 71, Malden 59.

Illmo-Scott City at Oran — The Eagles had better watch the Rams. ... Coach Charlie Bertrand will have a competitive team before the season's over. The football season will take its toll from now till the new year, but watch out after that ... They might pull an upset tonight, but the OHS experience should make the difference ... Oran 67, I-SC 55.

Meadow Heights at Scott Central — If Fred Rowe produces like he did at Parma Friday night, the Braves will be hard to beat ... They might have their hands full tonight, but it's doubtful. Scott Central 82, Meadow Heights 59.

Risco at Lilbourn — Coach Larry Warren will unveil his Panthers against the surprising Risco Tigers in the LHS season opener ... and will match strategy with his former Parma teammate ... Stan Whitson, head coach of the Golden Tigers. If Lilbourn's varsity is anywhere near as tough as its junior varsity, Southeast Missouri teams had better watch out ... A flip of the coin has staked the Panthers to an edge, despite the ninth rating of the Tigers ... Lilbourn 67, Risco 63.

Advance at Bell City — The Hornets might hit the coveted century mark in this battle ... But the Cubs might surprise the AHS cagers ... Advance 101, Bell City 89.

In other action, I'll take Zalma, Hillsboro, Potosi, Neelyville, Campbell, South Pemiscot, Matthews, East Prairie, Puxico, Viburnum and Norwood, plus the two seeded teams in the Arcadia Valley tournament.

Hornets Top Poll

The Advance Hornets picked up where they left off in March ... at the top of The Daily Standard high school basketball poll as a result of weekend balloting by a panel of Southeast Missouri coaches.

After a third rating in the pre-season poll, Coach Carroll Cookson's Hornets, raced into the No. 1 spot in the first regular season standings as if they were racing for a fast-break basket, garnering four first place votes and edging Cape Girardeau Central by three votes for the top spot.

Last season's Class S state champions and Daily Standard Number One Team award recipient, have rolled up three straight wins this season and sport a 14-game win streak over two seasons.

Charleston, the pre-season favorite, has settled back into fourth after two weeks of the season, and the Bluejays' opener is still another week away.

Cape Girardeau Central, the only Class L team among the top 10, retained second place despite its lack of play yet. The Tigers opened up in the Farmington tournament next week.

Potosi and Kelly joined the elite, while Farmington and Parma bowed out. The Leadbelt power took over seventh position, while Kelly moved into the 10th spot.

The poll, with first place votes in parenthesis, records and total points at right:

UCLA Unanimous No 1

UCLA has been voted the No. 1 college basketball team in this year's Associated Press pre- season poll but Coach John Wooden isn't especially optimistic.

As has been his customary, modest posture through the years, Wooden is making no predictions for the 1972- 73 season.

"I never start thinking and I won't be quoted about the national scene," said Wooden after learning of the poll results Sunday.

He will, however, confess that the Bruins are not a bad team.

"Yes, I think we will be respectable," says Wooden.

Wooden has thus underplayed the start of several previous seasons at UCLA but most of them have been excellent- including the last six when the Bruins won the NCAA championship.

It's the reason that the Bruins received a sweep of 36 first place votes in the pre-season poll of sports writers and broadcasters. UCLA got a total of 720 points to run away from the rest of the field.

"They've got to be stronger than they were last year," is the assessment of Louisville Coach Denny Crum, who was an assistant to Wooden a couple of years back and whose team finished in a tie for 20th in the polls.

Florida State, which lost to UCLA in last year's NCAA finals, was picked as the No. 2 team with 520 points. Maryland, winner of last season's NIT, was picked by the voters as the third best team in America with 509 points.

Both Florida State and Maryland received 13 second-place votes and eight thirds. But Florida State was given seven fourths to only three for Maryland.

Minnesota, defending champions of the Big Ten, was nominated No. 4 with 349 points while Marquette's midwestern independent was the No. 5 club with 296.

Following Marquette in the Top Ten were: Long Beach State: Southwestern Louisiana: North Carolina State: Penn and Ohio State.

Memphis State headed the Second Ten, followed by Brigham Young: Kentucky: Tennessee: Houston: South Carolina: Kansas State: Oral Roberts: Michigan and two tied for No. 20— Louisville and Southern Cal.

UCLA also finished first in last year's pre- season poll and held that position from beginning to end.

Cuba Will Try Hijack Trio

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three men who hijacked a Southern Airways jet to Cuba nine days ago will be tried in Havana on various charges, including extortion, according to word reaching the State Department.

U.S. officials said the hijackers violated Cuban law when they threatened to blow up the plane if authorities at Jose Marti airport refused a demand to refuel the craft.

The incident occurred during the first of two visits to Havana by the hijacked plane in the 29hour odyssey involving 30 passengers and four crew membes. It was after the return trip to Havana that the three hijackers—identified as Henry Jackson, 25, Lewis Moore, 27, and Melvin Cale, 21—were taken into custody by Cuban authorities.

Discussing the latest developments in the case Monday, State Department spokesman Charles W. Bray said the Cuban decision to try the men does not necessarily mean rejection of a U.S. request for their extradition. He said it is not unprecedented for a country to try accused persons and then extradite them.

Bray said there has been no reply from Cuba on a U.S. request for extradition of four men charged in the Oct. 29 hijacking of an Eastern Air Lines plane. Three of the four also are charged with two counts of murder in connection with an abortive bank robbery in Arlington, Va.

Bray also reported that the Cuban government has responded favorably to a U.S. invitation to "engage in discussions which might lead to an agreement" to discourage the hijacking of airliners.

He announced that the Cuban government is "prepared to begin discussions soon through the good offices of the Swiss government," which handles U.S. interests in Cuba.

Cuba Will Try Hijack Trio

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three men who hijacked a Southern Airways jet to Cuba nine days ago will be tried in Havana on various charges, including extortion, according to word reaching the State Department.

U.S. officials said the hijackers violated Cuban law when they threatened to blow up the plane if authorities at Jose Marti airport refused a demand to refuel the craft.

The incident occurred during the first of two visits to Havana by the hijacked plane in the 29hour odyssey involving 30 passengers and four crew membes. Charleston Has 3 Fires

CHARLESTON — The fire department made three runs Monday.

At 4:30 p.m. the department was called to the 700 block of South Green Street where fire had been set in a vacant house. The blaze spread to a second vacant building. Both structures had been condemned and are located in the urban renewal area. The buildings were allowed to burn with the fire department standing by to keep the fire under control.

At 5:20 p.m. firemen were called to 103 North Haggie St. to a house owned by C. E. Stauffer. Clothing owned by members of the C. B. Brown family, who were in the process of moving into the house, was reported on fire in a bedroom.

The firemen were called a second time at 7:25 p.m. to the same address. Clothing stored in a trunk was reported on fire. The fire department is investigating.

Harvest Halted By Weather

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Poor weather the past week brought harvesting in Missouri to a virtual standstill.

Harvesting of corn, soybeans and grain sorghum fell far behind levels of a year ago. Corn, for example, was 55 per cent harvested, compared to 91 per cent last year at the same time.

Cotton picking resumed in some areas of the Bootheel, but muddy fields made it slow. An estimated 52 per cent of the crop was picked, compared to 92 per cent last year.

Some areas of south-central Missouri received three inches of rain, sending numerous Ozarks creeks and rivers out of their banks. Snow was heavy in some areas of the northwest.

GOV. WARREN E. HEARNES signs a proclamation designating Nov. 17-23 as Missouri Farm - City Week. On hand to witness the signing in the governor's office were, from left, Carl Morrow of Jefferson City, executive vice president of the Missouri Power & Light Co.,; Miss Jeanne Thurman of Atlanta, "The Farmer's Daughter"; O. Dale Fischgrabe of Columbia, state resource conservationist for U. S. Today's 4-H'ers Learn Oldest Art—Public Speaking

SPECIAL - Public speaking is one of the oldest arts in the world. Since ancient times orators have aroused, reassured and informed audiences through their public speaking skills. Today, the art of public speaking is more alive than ever. Especially among the 183,000 young boys and girls who participate in the national 4-H public speaking program.

The program, sponsored nationally by Union Oil Company of California, helps 4-H'ers develop speaking skills that improve their self-confidence and their ability to communicate in all forms of media.

Alan Synar, of Muskogee, Okla., claims he overcame a speech defect and gained self-confidence through the 4-H public speaking program. A national winner of $700 scholarship from Union Oil, in 1971, young Synar remembers the first time he started in 4-H public speaking. "I had an extreme stutter, complicated by an unusually fast-talking speech with no knowledge of expression for emphasis."

Synar overcame his difficulties through coaching and hard work. He earned more than 30 trophies and honors for his speaking skills, plus trips and other awards.

Along with the satisfaction of having built self-assurance and ability to communicate with others, 4-H'ers who participate in the public speaking program receive incentive and recognition awards. Union Oil, which has sponsored the program for over 23 years, gives four medals of honor to winners in each county. Fifty dollar U.S. Savings Bonds are awarded to the winning boy and girl public speaker in each state.

The Cooperative Extension Service then selects 18 sectional winners from among the state winners. Each of them receives an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 26-30.

At that event six $700 scholarships are awarded national winners by the oil company.

For more information about the 4-H public speaking program, contact the county extension office.

Sao Paulo's Fast Growth Brings Problems With It

CROWDED CITY — Tall buildings dot the skyline of Latin America's largest city, Sao Paulo, Brazil, plagued with a spiraling population and health and transportation problems.

By DAVID VIDAL
Associated Press Writer

SAO PAULO, BRAZIL (AP) — Things come big in Sao Paulo. The largest industrial complex in Latin America surrounds it. The biggest port on the continent, Santos, lies at its door. The largest land area covered by any city on this side of the world, including Los Angeles, rests beneath it.

Problems come big too.

Half of the homes in Latin America's largest city are not served by running water. They have to rely on well-water which can be a breeding ground for pollution and diseases such as cholera and dysentery. Almost a third of the city lacks a tie-in to the sewage system. Three hundred thousand persons pour into Brazil's leading metropolis every year in search of jobs and opportunities.

The jobs and opportunities are there — for qualified and well-trained individuals. Thus many of the immigrants wind up in decrepit shanty towns on the city's outskirts.

They make this monstrous city of 6 million inhabitants one of the fastest — if not the fastest — growing cities in the world.

"It doesn't make any sense to be pouring money into the city to solve problems brought on by increasing population, since we can't keep up with it," the man holding the reins says. "So we have to stop the population growth."

Mayor Jose Carlos Figuereido Ferraz sees Sao Paulo as a problem of "undisciplined growth." He has pushed for creation of an "infrastructure" to tame it.

"The plan calls for this, but the rest of it is mostly restrictive. If it weren't our efforts would be in vain."

The "Plan for Integral Development" has been approved by the Municipal Council.

"Some urban plans before this administration were made to accommodate a population of as much as 20 million. We don't want that. Plans now foresee a restriction on growth. This is a complete turnabout in municipal policy."

The main points of the plan call for a new series of expressways to speed "Paulistas" to and from work, strict anti-pollution measures and better use of available land through a new building code.

The code limits new construction to certain areas away from the jammed and traffic-congested downtown district. By luring builders away from the heart of the city, the mayor hopes new population "nuclei" will be formed.

Eventually the basic reasons for a booming population — jobs, diversions and homes — will be moved further and further away from the city, thus discouraging new arrivals.

New highways which will crisscross the city will both reduce chronic traffic congestion and a high accident fatality rate. On a recent Friday an estimated one million man-hours of work went down the drain as hundreds of commuters remained snarled in downtown traffic.

Sao Paulo is spared some of the money problems afflicting some cities.

Her $350 million budget in 1971 was six times bigger than her 1965 expenditures. The mayor says much of this is due to new state aid, which accounts for 40 per cent of Sao Paulo's income.

Without this collaboration "the city would be an administrative disaster," he says.

"I won't say everything is rosy if it isn't and our approach is based on a realistic appraisal and is not pessimistic," the mayor adds.

"But I remain optimistic that we will solve the problems."

SAO PAULO, BRAZIL (AP) — Things come big in Sao Paulo. The largest industrial complex in Latin America surrounds it. The biggest port on the continent, Santos, lies at its door. The largest land area covered by any city on this side of the world, including Los Angeles, rests beneath it.

Problems come big too.

Half of the homes in Latin America's largest city are not served by running water. They have to rely on well-water which can be a breeding ground for pollution and diseases such as cholera and dysentery. Almost a third of the city lacks a tie-in to the sewage system. Three hundred thousand persons pour into Brazil's leading metropolis every year in search of jobs and opportunities.

The jobs and opportunities are there — for qualified and well-trained individuals. Thus many of the immigrants wind up in decrepit shanty towns on the city's outskirts.

They make this monstrous city of 6 million inhabitants one of the fastest — if not the fastest — growing cities in the world.

"It doesn't make any sense to be pouring money into the city to solve problems brought on by increasing population, since we can't keep up with it," the man holding the reins says. "So we have to stop the population growth."

Mayor Jose Carlos Figuereido Ferraz sees Sao Paulo as a problem of "undisciplined growth." He has pushed for creation of an "infrastructure" to tame it.

"The plan calls for this, but the rest of it is mostly restrictive. If it weren't our efforts would be in vain."

The "Plan for Integral Development" has been approved by the Municipal Council.

"Some urban plans before this administration were made to accommodate a population of as much as 20 million. We don't want that. Plans now foresee a restriction on growth. This is a complete turnabout in municipal policy."

The main points of the plan call for a new series of expressways to speed "Paulistas" to and from work, strict anti-pollution measures and better use of available land through a new building code.

The code limits new construction to certain areas away from the jammed and traffic-congested downtown district. By luring builders away from the heart of the city, the mayor hopes new population "nuclei" will be formed.

Eventually the basic reasons for a booming population — jobs, diversions and homes — will be moved further and further away from the city, thus discouraging new arrivals.

New highways which will crisscross the city will both reduce chronic traffic congestion and a high accident fatality rate. On a recent Friday an estimated one million man-hours of work went down the drain as hundreds of commuters remained snarled in downtown traffic.

Sao Paulo is spared some of the money problems afflicting some cities.

Her $350 million budget in 1971 was six times bigger than her 1965 expenditures. The mayor says much of this is due to new state aid, which accounts for 40 per cent of Sao Paulo's income.

Without this collaboration "the city would be an administrative disaster," he says.

"I won't say everything is rosy if it isn't and our approach is based on a realistic appraisal and is not pessimistic," the mayor adds.

"But I remain optimistic that we will solve the problems."
